go further down than that and you'll get into all kinds of good stuff. The Unami confluence is down there and has easy parking due to the perkiomen trail. Nami is heavily stocked with trout and loaded with smally.

I know a guy that fishes the res regularly and he gets all kinds of good largemouth. Might be worth renting a boat at green lane for a day. They are wide flatbottom boats I'm sure you could easily cast a fly outta one, hell if I can fly cast from sitting in my kayak I'm sure you could do it outta one of those.
