I'll be at the JAM with some gear this year. So if you're interested in checking something out I'll have a handful of my reels and other products available. My shipment of the Ichthus reels that are out of stock may or may not arrive in time so we'll see. I also have a few test rods for a series I'm looking into if anyone wants to cast them or even fish them for a day. If you want anything, let me know and I'll be sure to bring it with me. Stock is low on a lot of items and I was hoping to get everything back by this time, but everything ran a bit late through my manufacturer.

I'll also have an Ichthus 5/6 in black with an Alpha line and backing in the raffle, so make sure to buy some tickets!
