When I was in Army I had a friend who was a Parachute Rigger. The Riggers packed ALL the chutes. The NCOIC ( the Sergeant in charge) every once in a while would go down the shelves packed with chutes and pull one at random and hand it to a Rigger and he would have to jump with it. Needless to say ALL the Riggers did their very best to pack the chutes correctly because they may have to jump out of a perfectly good airplane with one that their co-worker packed! 🤔
