Potter County recommendations?

Hello all, after 27 year living in Western PA I think it's time I try out the fishing in North Central PA. I'm looking for recommendations as to where to fish. I'm mainly thinking of trying Kettle Creek, as well as Slate and Cedar Runs. I would also like to try some of the smaller tribs for wild brookies. On the other end of the spectrum, I wouldn't mind swinging a streamer or wet fly on a two handed rod on some bigger water(Pine Creek?). Any comments or suggestions would be welcomed.

I'm also looking for suggestions for good places to stay up there. I'd rather not spend a lot of money, and being near a bar where I can get some food, beer and watch the hockey playoffs would be a plus! Thanks in advance for your suggestions.
