

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : S. York Co WW update

S. York Co WW update

Author: : glenrockonthefly

Date: : 2013/5/16 13:06:09

URL:

Hey All,

Been a long time since I posted anything! So here is a little news from S. York Co.

S. Branch Codorus creek smallmouth: very slow to get going! last april was great this april 2 smb very small have not tried in May yet but figure spawning now (all at twin bridges) Have not tried main body Codorus in York yet.

Local Farm ponds have been great!! Started catching LMB and bluegills early April, even had ice on eyes. Continue to be great, starting to hit topwater both fly and spinning, caught 22 LMB Sat April 11th on Zara Spook. Caught 10 this morn on 8wt with popper and OWB. Bass in ponds appear to be done spawning on nest 2 weeks ago. Lots of good action for bluegill but they appear to be on nest now.

Will try Codorus creek again soon.