troutbert, in that area, I have sat on rocks within 10' of people doing heavy narcotics. I have been offered green powerbait, booze and acid. Ive seen some do snow there and people I think who were on heavier narcotics. Its a shame cause I was there last year in the day and the stone flies were every where feeding the rising smallies. I said to friends hey theres a bunch of stoners! but they thought I was talking about the hippies in the trees. It is a neat area,lots of natural water slides falls and swimming pools. After dark though things get a little rambunctious. We leave by 5 pm every time.
