

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Interesting observation on my warm water creek

Re: Interesting observation on my warm water creek

Author: : troutbert

Date: : 2013/5/17 7:19:42

URL:

On the warm part of Bald Eagle Creek I've seen juvenile smallmouth bass taking sulphurs one after another.

Fallfish, too, feed a lot on sulphurs. One of the streams I fish has both trout and a lot of fallfish and it's hard to tell the difference in their rises.

The only thing is that the fallfish are usually in the slower water, out of the current.