

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : staff

Re: staff

Author: : Fishidiot

Date: : 2013/5/20 16:21:02

URL:

I've used an old broomstick for over ten years. Just make sure the stick you pick is made of a solid wood as it will take a beating in rocky streams.

I've added a bicycle handle grip with lanyard/clip and the lower end is a rubber cap with screws to make a studded effect that improves traction on slimy rocks.

I'm lucky enough to still be pretty sprightly but I swear by a wading staff and use it early and often. Great for jetties in the salt too (I've always wondered why more jetty guys don't use a walking stick).