Mtnstream,

Your question was fine and perhaps some folks will chime in. Please be aware, however, that questions about small wild streams and the presence of brook trout etc.....are frowned upon by many folks in this community and snarky comments sometimes result from such inquiries. There are probably a few folks around here who are familiar with this stream but prefer to keep what they know close hold. You were perfectly within bounds to ask however.

We encourage fishing reports and open sharing of information around here.....Just trying to help out if you weren't aware of this.
