Im not saying the 2' is gonna change the world but I guess how I see it why not and if it does it could be awesome, heck even going up to taking off 3'. Ya know what ever its a light line to begin with so that small chang could change the way the line handles.

Who knows what will actually happen but im gonna try any ways...

And if it doesnt work out as planned ill blood knot the middle back together, and melt the line till it comes back to shape.
