Come on, Yuengling. You sleep, while others advance.

Have some competitive spirit, willya?

LOL. Competitive spirit. Shitty little Yuengling is now the largest domestically owned brewer in the US. Think about that for a minute. Ya. Little backyard Yuengling that I had never heard of when I moved up here 10 years ago. It is simply amazing what they have done with that GOD AWFUL lager.

Having said that, drive on up to Pottsville (arguably one of the worst places on the face of the earth) and check out the orange ass rivers up there. That is not barley, hops nor yeast my friends.
