

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Delaware River Estuary striper run over

Re: Delaware River Estuary striper run over

Author: : fishngun

Date: : 2013/5/24 10:45:16

URL:

So what about the resident fish that inhabit the river year round? I have seen fish in the 30+ inch range blitzing on bait in August. I have caught them spring through fall. I know they are here. I'm sure the numbers aren't as high as the spawning run but I have a hunch they are more prevalent that people think. Maybe not the big cows, but good numbers of 20 to mid 30 inch fish. Thoughts?