Hey folks,

I'm looking to buy a sling pack and am leaning towards the Patagonia Stealth Atom -

Anyone have any experience with this piece? From what I've seen it looks great, comfortable, and big enough for all I would need it for. I'm looking to get something to take with me out west this summer for a trip that would be easy to pack up on a plane. Also, I've found my vest to be a bit cumbersome as of late and I would like to "minimalize".

Thanks!
