Jack,

I'd fallen into a similar funk a few years back. The house, the job, the family, the whatever. I was fishing 4-5 days a year. It sucked! It was no way to spend my life. But a board member was putting together a mini JAM. I went. I met other board members, who invited me out on January 1st of all days. And the more I fished, the more I wanted to fish. Last year I fish more than I had in a long time. I've come to realize, one day they'll chuck my carcass into a hole and the work won't be done, but I will be. So today I might as well go fishing. Hope I see you there!
