Lol, those buyers are gonna be real mislead if they think those Pa properties are idyllic cabin sites..gonna be staring at rig lights in the night sky.

The marcellus shale formation does not go that far south. The gas companies maybe interested in the water, but they won't be drilling gas wells near penns anytime soon.

I was talking about all the PA listings on that site, more specifically the Home Waters Club in Columbia on Fishing Creek as the one the site would be interested in(it sold), but my gas comments were towards the Bradford, Sullivan, Lycoming, Tioga, Clinton properties.
