Fished a Meck's Patriot and a PT dropper on Memorial Day. It was an accident and I only thought about afterwards. I was just looking for something easy to see and floated well.

Did quite well. About 50/50.

I got to thinking about it and I may do it on purpose next Memorial day.

Any thoughts on a dropper to round out the crew? It doesn't have to be Red, White and Blue. The name alone could swing the idea.

If this was covered in a previous post before my apologies. Sometimes original ideas spring from things that we've read in the past and have forgotten. Getting old sucks.
