Living in the Lightening Capitol of the World I have a genuine fear ,respect for any storm. A bolt out of the blue, lightening can strike 2 miles from a storm in blue sky weather. Best seek shelter till it passes. A Fish has good advice.

After the storm when the water takes on a green hue I've had memorable catches of big browns and no lightening to worry about.

Being "stuck" in a boat off shore can get a bit hairy and avoiding storms and waterspouts can be and experience I'd rather forget. GG
