Been down that road! The chest pack portion of my new system is slightly smaller than the last one, so I had to remove some stuff.... and realized that I had been carrying things I hadn't used in years!

One upside to changing out pack or vests every couple of years, I guess. This time I switched to ultra thin fly boxes, I can carry my flies (nymphs, soft hackles, etc.) with less bulk and weight now.

I forgot to transfer the bug spray from my old pack to the new one and first day out the mosquitoes used me as a buffet.... so that's a MUST!
