No I did not fish in the rain after all, but I will certainly take the advice and experience posted here and run with it. Thanks to all who contributed.

Trust me I would have rather fished in the rain. Instead we loaded and unloaded about 3 mowers, 15 bicycles, 6 dirtbikes, 5 kayaks, and a washer and dryer.....in the rain.

Did try the sculpin the day after the rain though. First cast somethin large smashed it as soon as I stripped it once, but I missed the hookup. Was having trouble working it to the bottom as I had no weight and it's tied unweighted, did manage to land a fallfish on it though so at least it didn't skunk me. Will definitely be trying this and some woolies in the next rainy afternoon.
