If she is anything like my wife...you will get lots of grief.

One more word of advice. If you dont have an old desk/table to tie on, try to find a vice with a heavy base rather than one that clamps to a table to avoid scratching your good furniture. They have a rubber bottom that prevents scratching and slipping. I really like the one I got and it was cheap ($60 it think). Ive actually wore out a couple sets of jaws on it.
