Get a 3 wt: heavy enough to use a streamer, but still light enough to be really fun. I have a 7' 6" sage zxl. Its my favorite rod in my arsenal, and sometimes when I'm out with it I find myself dicking around, try trick shots, threading needles and such instead of fishing. If you get a rod with quicker action you'll have no reason to overload either, something that I find some people (including myself) have thought to try in order to cut the wind or fish a streamer.
