

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Neshannock Creek, Lawrence County, 5/18 & 5/19/13

Re: Neshannock Creek, Lawrence County, 5/18 & 5/19/13

Author: : ryguyfi

Date: : 2013/6/2 13:33:38

URL:

the spinners may be there tonight as the last day. I'm sure you'll get some stragglers either way. You HAVE to stay late to get the action. To find out for sure, just walk along the stream and look at the large leafed trees and see if the spinners are hanging underneath. I have some pictures of them that I'll post later. That will let you know if there will be some spinners that evening. If you see a handful on the leaves, then you'll def see a ton in the evening.

Just go. Be prepared with some size 14 white spinners just in case. The cahill spinners should give some action if the drakes don't show up.