Afish is on target using the alcohol. I would suggest that instead of using Aquaseal consider using Goop or Shoe Goo. They're cheaper than Aquaseal, you get a much larger tube for the same price and both work. I believe it's the same product as Aquaseal. I am still using an old pair of Simms waders I purchased in 2004 (still not leaking after repairs) where I've used the alcohol to identify holes/wear sopts, and made repairs using Goop and Shoe Goo. BTW, I purchase these products at Tru Value.
