

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : Bushkill Dewatered

Re: Bushkill Dewatered

Author: : Chooch

Date: : 2013/6/4 22:30:31

URL:

They all look like suckers but the one fish at the very top, with its head pointing into the rocks looks like it may be a trout. It appears to have a regular looking jaw at least. The thing that caught my eye is that snake looking shape toward the bottom of the fish pile. Is that an eel?