Kray that was the best post maybe ever on this forum. I agree 100% with it is for sure is overrated everything is coming off at one time. I guess from what the people say on this beacuse you have no commen sense every land owner has to mark out the boundry on where to park because god forbid if we have to walk any distance at all beacuse it's full where we want to park lol you know how retarded that sounds because were coming from 3 hours away to fishing the epic hatch we can park and do whatever we want. It's something to see but frick Id find something else to do then to drive to fish it not worth it at all fish wooven stones lol.
