Went to Colombia (South America) with two fly rods 2 years ago. 4 piece work best because they pack smaller and are easier to carry.

Let me see what is in Southern CA.....There is the Colorado River area down by Yuma AZ that has a good bass population. The well know lake Havasu is to crazy with drinkers/partiers. I used to fish from a boat at a lake not too far from Yucca Valley (deep enough for trout to survive) I think it was Silverwood State Park and of course the Mountain range Big Bear Lake area.

Best way to tell is to go online and view CA and then look up the lakes and rivers in the area and see what fish are in them and when they are in season.
