

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : White Clay Creek, ChesterCo., 6/4/2013

Re: White Clay Creek, ChesterCo., 6/4/2013

Author: : icyguides

Date: : 2013/6/6 9:07:48

URL:

I fished the middle branch at london tract road last night after work for the first time. I've never fished this stream before so i don't know what's average, but the water was too low for fish to be spread out. All of the fish I encountered were in a few of the deeper holes. Water temp was 68. I brought 2 bows and 1 brown to hand with a mix of a couple other rough fish. As usual, missed and lost a few too. Size 20 black zebra midge worked best.