There are two schools of thought about gear for small stream fishing. While longer rods with larger line weights are more versatile, I prefer shorter, slow rods. My favorite small stream rod is my 6' bamboo 3 weight. I use a 4 weight double taper line on a late 60's Orvis Battenkill Reel. As for a reel, I agree that any old click and pawl reel would work. You can pick up some old reels cheap that would look great on a glass rod.
