Hi everyone,

I am new here but thought I would introduce myself. I have been a bass fisherman for the better part of 25 years in NEPA and within the last two years have taken up fly fishing as well. I would consider myself decent I guess, but look forward to learning a lot from many of you. I fish local waters near me like the Lackawaxen, Lackawanna, etc. but am always up for some tips/tricks to improve my catch rate and to find new waters to fish. Fly fishing is quite a bit different from what I am used to with bass fishing. There are no high pressure stakes like in tournament fishing, and I think that I connect with that solitude on the water away from all of the fast paced power fishing involved with baitcasting/spinning for bass.

Well, that's my intro...I look forward to learning from many of you and thanks for taking the time to read my first post! Have a great weekend.
