You know, something tells me they're early this year....a coworker told me she was crossing the Conestoga south of Lancaster City and was just swarmed w/ big white mayflies.

On Monday night I was out on Hammer and saw several big, white mayflies coming off the water. Probalby saw about 10 of them in a 50 yard stretch. I can't believe it'd be the hexes already, but maybe. I put on a white wulff, but it didn't outproduce the caddis.
