

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : fisherman drowned in penns creek

Re: fisherman drowned in penns creek

Author: : jdaddy

Date: : 2013/6/7 20:03:57

URL:

Quote:

Lonewolf wrote:

you can drown in a 1/4" of water , I agree with Krayfish, all it takes is to slip and hit your head or break your neck during the fall...possibly be under the influence of drugs or alcohol, Also if the water is cold he could have suffered from Hypothermia too.

A lot of factors to consider besides Foul play. Maybe they can figure this out since no one can find Gricar.

Ya, I agreed. I would rule out foul play and assume he was was on meth, fell, down in 1/4" of water and froze to death in Penns.

Why make assumptions about the deceased?

The news story is very poorly written, thus it's hard to tell who said what.

Here is the direct link to avoid the nightmare website navigation:

http://dailyitem.com/0100\_news/x69747 ... ek-then-drifts-underwater