

Subject: : Professional Stream Reports

Topic: : Cumberland valley streams

Cumberland valley streams

Author: : addictedangler

Date: : 2013/6/8 12:27:12

URL:

We did not get any heavy down pours so the stream conditions are very fishable. Mid and upper Yellowbreeches is up a few inches and has a little off color to it. There were fish rising this morning. Letort and other local spring creeks are in very good shape. Small mountain streams in the area are tea colored and up a few inches. I checked a area within a 8 to 10 mile area of Boilingsprings but do not know other stream conditions. By tomorrow everything will be clear again and fishing as usual. The sulphurs are almost over on the Breeches but Gray fox and starting to see some Cahills in the evening. Hope this helps.