

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Fish ID Mike; anyone?

Re: Fish ID Mike; anyone?

Author: : pcray1231

Date: : 2013/6/10 8:08:13

URL:

Yeah, in western PA, warmouths were not exactly rare. I mean, not super common, but I caught several per year, which is a lot for someone who never really targeted panfish.

You're right, though, while I don't fish warmwater that much, I haven't caught one in the Susquehanna or Delaware drainages to date. I guess I didn't realize they were so rare or nonexistent out here, just never gave it much thought.