I haven't fished that spot since the year it got posted. I waded up there and fished a few times after the guy put the fresh signs up but always felt nervous so I stopped going there.

So i guess the simple answer is yes I did fish that spot about 3 times when it was posted. I also fished it for about 3 years before it got posted. It's a shame cause that was one of the best holes in that quarter mile stretch around tollgate there.

I guess I'm not the best example for proper use of posted land etiquette. I also cross country ski across private land from time to time. I try to be a good steward of the outdoors and find friendly conversation often leads to good results. I've never been in trouble with the law over it and I've never even been booted from private land over it either.

The majority of my fishing happens on public waterways.
