The troutiest rods I have are a 7ft 3/4 weight e-glass - got it's "Riffle" blank from Phil at Kettle Creek and a 7'6" bamboo 4wt Payne 100 taper - got the blank from Anglers Roost.

From what I've experienced (which is less than some others) whether it be e-glass or s-glass, newer glass rods are rated much more accurately than graphite rods.

I wonder if fast action graphite is inherently difficult to rate.
