Ouch, not what I was hoping to hear but appreciate the information. Our original plan was to head north to NY for smallies but that means a lot more driving and a lot less fishing so I still plan on trying to make PA work. Even if I have to fish creeks and ponds I guess that is what I will do. I will definitely still check out the Lehigh, if it doesn't work out this time maybe next time we will get our hands on some pontoons and try to find some Musky.
