

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : SE PA SMB

Re: SE PA SMB

Author: : JasonS

Date: : 2013/6/12 14:24:15

URL:

Quote:

SurfCowboyXX wrote:

I think it's water quality. Flatheads can thrive in awful water that would kill smallies. We have flatheads, we are losing smallies, and I don't think anyone believes the rivers are in better shape than they were 10 years ago.

I see this claim a lot re: water quality. There must be data out there that proves it, yet i've never seen it. Where is everyone getting the idea that water quality is worse now than 10yrs ago?