Wow guys, thank you so much! I am glad you like them. I really enjoy tying them and seeing the finished product, but I also love catching fish on them.

The smaller one isn't as tightly packed, mainly because it was tied on a sz4 Mustad 3366 which isn't very thick. It is difficult to pack it tight without imagining the hook snapping and getting the point through your finger nail. lol

If I have the opportunity to fish with any of you, I will happily bring some extras to pass on.

Edit* The eyes are 5/16th oval pupil eyes that I got at Bears Den, there is no marking on the package as to what brand or reseller they came from. I use all kinds of different eyes including the googly doll eyes.
