I finally was working in an area today where I saw a lot of Cicada activity. They were singing all day long and flying around everywhere. I wasn't really near any streams so I couldn't check to see if fish were feeding on them. I was in southern Schuylkill County - south of Schuylkill Haven and in Lebanon County near Fort Indiantown Gap and there were plenty of them around at both locations. I did get a few decent photos of them so I figured I would post them. Here they are.
