16 of us from Cumb Valley TU did a 4 day Trip there several weeks ago. WOW. We stayed in cabins right below the damn. Incredible top water action. Sulphers and olives. We came back wondering why we trek out west every year. You have to fish around the release schedule though and the TVA didnt stick to their planned schedule. When you hear the first siren, start to move to the correct side of the river. When you hear the second siren, pay attention because the water starts coming up fast. We had one day that water was released all day so we went into the mountains to fish. The Cvtu latest newsletter on its web site has more info.
