
Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Michaux State Forest

Re: Michaux State Forest

Author: : Chaz

Date: : 2013/6/13 14:31:53

URL:

Quote:

osprey wrote:

Chris.....I lived in Newville around 10 or 12 years late 90s until around 2005 and then back out west here near Da Burgh.....anyhow i thought i knew Micheaux like the backof my hand but i dont remember that lake unless it's the one that flows down the Caledonia side of the mountain or maybe the York county side? It's been years since i fished Micheaux and it was mostly the Cumberland county side and mostly the Mountain creek and Yellow Breeches watersheds but i used to stay at Caledonia alot cause of Falling springs and there was a lake on the road from Caledonia back to Pine Grove furnace that drained back do9wn the Caledonia side is that it? Got me3 rememberin herei had both legs back then Micheaux was awesome and close to home. Diverse fishing ops HUGE diversity. COOL POST

There were 2 lakes on the Eastern side of Micheaux SF, lone Pine Reservoir and one other that is no longer there further down the drainage along the state highway. The water in the old lakebed has had a restoration completed and the fishing is decent in that sections.