I've been to Switzerland a couple of times but never fished. I agree with what dryflyguy said regarding the streams. First time I was there in August, it was about 100 degrees out, thought it be refreshing to take a swim in one of the lakes. Jumped in without checking water temp, temp was about 32.1 degrees, almost had a heart attack.

I did get certified in sky diving while I was there, so if you have an interest in that, I could give you some info.
