

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Thinking about a 7 weight

Re: Thinking about a 7 weight

Author: : ryguyfi

Date: : 2013/6/14 10:37:54

URL:

The lighter a rod is, typically means it is effected by even the slightest nick or scratch on the blank. So if you hit it with a split shot, fly, or rock, then it can gradually split the graphite and break on you in unusual times, like casting or when stressed by a fish of any size. It's the give and take of the great new technology of the lighter fly rods of today. Make sure you have a good warranty when making a purchase of a high end rod.