

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : SE PA SMB

Re: SE PA SMB

Author: : PASKIINGSUCKS

Date: : 2013/6/14 14:17:57

URL:

We usually do pretty good with the SMB any time we float the perky. We don't generally kayak it below spring mountain though so take that for whatever it's worth. I've heard the unami holds pretty good populations around the green lane area as well. Higher upstream it's a little more suited for trout than smallies though, but then I've never fished it above say finland road or so.

About to start targeting them again once I get a more sizeable rod this summer. Throwin poppers with the 6'6" eagle claw is a bit of a pain, maybe I'm just doing something wrong that I'm not aware of.