

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Time to start using those Mulberry patterns

Re: Time to start using those Mulberry patterns

Author: : barrybarry

Date: : 2013/6/14 21:06:11

URL:

Spent way too much of my youth swimming in a quarry.

When the Mulberries (limbs over the water) were ripe the crows would flock to them and eat their fill.

Many fell into the water. The crows would then fly down to the water and the carp would splash water at them as sort of a payment.

I know it sounds weird. But it happened on a regular basis.