I'm going to be going to Virginia Beach for a family vacation shortly. I was thinking of dabbling in some surf fishing in the early mornings before everyone else is up and around. From some of my research this seems like this may be a doable thing. I have absolutely no idea what I am doing when it comes to saltwater flyfishing. Figuring on just throwing some big Clousers or Half and Halfs. If anybody has any information or experience in surf fishing this area I would really appreciate some insight. I have already done some research about saltwater licenses for Virginia but I am not totally sure that surf fishing is allowed on all areas of Virginia Beach. Thanks.
