Raftman,

Loved the location of he park. Good central spot to reach a lot of water easily. They don't have modern cabins here, only camping cottages(beds and electric only, no water). You use the campground toilets and showers. The nature in is there, however if you're looking for a more modern experience. Looked like a nice place. The setting in the campground leaves a lot to be desired however because it's in a forer field that is in the early stages of succession, so there aren't many trees. It worked well for what we wanted though.
