

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : Flying w/fly fishing equipment

Re: Flying w/fly fishing equipment

Author: : djs134

Date: : 2013/6/16 18:52:21

URL:

Flew out to Colorado several years ago to fish above Basalt and only carried on. Flies, tools, chest pack, waders/boot and clothing for a week all in a carry on sized backpack and a 3pc 5wt rod strapped to it. No problems from State College through Philly to Denver (think I even had a layover in Chicago...)

Did the same a few years ago to Idaho to fish a trib of the Clearwater. Again, no problem.

I did however, make sure that anything that could be questioned was close to the top. My brother didn't and had to practically empty his whole pack in the Pullman airport...almost missed the plane.