I mainly fish the Lackawaxen, Lackawanna, Lehigh, and occasionally one of the branches of the Delaware and wondered if I was to spend the money on a new Winston...either a GVX Select or BIIIx...what length should I get? I mostly fish dries because I am not that good yet at nymphing...but also like to throw small streamers. It seems like years ago, shorter rods were the norm but now longer is better...what is everyone's opinion? Thank you!

Also, and brand/model or different weight recommendations would help too for the areas that I fish...Thanks!
