I have a 9' GVX(a 6wt though, love it). I also have a 8'6" 5wt(not a GVX) and that extra six inches does make a difference imo. Nothing major, but it does help. I'd probably go with the 9' but that's just me, others may have different opinions. For nymphing I like longer rods, and for dries I use my shorter rods more but still use my 9' rod occasionally.
